The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-3, 6-9, 11-15, 17-18, and 20-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Dykhoff et al.

Dykhoff et al teach that an electric outlet box can be coated on the entire exterior or the interior back wall with an intumescent material for fire safety, see column 1, lines 15-22. The rectangular shape, orifice and strain relief are so notoriously well known that they are considered inherent to Dykhoff et al, as are ceramic boxes, metal boxes and plastic boxes as noted by Dykhoff et al at column 4, lines 39-48.

Claims 4-5 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dykhoff et al.

The use of an intumescent coating on all of the interior is considered an obvious expedient, as for redundant protection against fire spreading. The face plate of Dykhoff et al is either a coating or integral, see column 2, lines 32-34. It would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have made the disclosed box with an integral intumescent layer.

Claims 10 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dykhoff et al in view of Budnick.

Dykhoff et al teach the claimed device except for attachment tabs for two studs. Budnick shows a connection box with tabs 15' for attaching to studs in new work. It would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have used such tabs with the disclosed box of Dykhoff et al for new work.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
